WESTERN CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

Although this year was a little different than normal, Western Carolina was still able to make the best of it!

They participated in a service project, virtual conferences, interprofessional education, and service projects throughout the past year!

Western Carolina Students were able to travel across the country for their immersive clinical education sites

They also welcomed in their very first class of professional Masters students this year!!

Is your program doing something cool? We would love to know!
